Thinking Out Loud

(By H. M. L.)

Congress, especially the New Deal membership, is a trifle embarassed. Nine hundred ragged hunger marchers stormed into Washington a few days ago. Congress remembers when a somewhat larger army of veterans marched into Washington and camped during the Hoover administration, and all the embarrassment that event entailed. Millions of employed scattered through the country can be ignored, or at least treated abstractly, but a few hundreds marching on Washington remind Congress of historical precedents. There was for instance the bread demanding mob of Paris, that initiated the French Revolution. It is extremely painful to the New Dealers to be reminded by 900 personal witnesses that the New Deal has not yet lived up to its high pretensions and to see these hunger marchers camped on their doorstep as was that other army in Hoover's time.

It has come at last. The odorless cabbage. A Cornel professor who has spent six years in his laboratories growing various kinds of cabbage, made this startling and welcome announcement a few days ago at a conference of scientific men. Now if some savant will only get busy and take the tears out of onions!

As long as college youth throughout the land was content to confine their satiric performance to the organization called "Veterans of Future Wars", a great majority of the Americans probably conceded that this was a first rate method of bringing home to their elders the futility and folly of wars. But when the girls started out energetically to organize the "Future Gold Star Mothers." this was just a bit too brazen and brash. The Gold Star Mothers themselves have issued this short and stinging rebuke: "Those who thoughtlessly join this organization are lacking the first attributes of a gentlewoman by holding up to ridicule the real Gold Star Mothers, the majority of whom are over 60 years of age and every one of them has lost one or more sons during the World War, the most costly sacrifice upon the altar of patriotism and freedom that it is possible for a woman to make, and leads one to question the fitness of these young women ever to qualify as Gold Star or any other type of mother."

In the old time spelling bees the two appointed by the teacher chose sides. The good stout spellers were chosen first. Out on the play ground the teams for many of the games, "dare base" for instance, were chosen in the same manner. The Old World is getting ready for another big war. France and Germany are choosing sides. France is trying to nominate Italy and England, Russia and the Balkan states on her side. Germany is energetically calling on England, more or less on Poland and also seeking secretly an alliance with Italy and Japan. Negotiations for these various alliances are going forward and it will probably be months before these war teams are completed and Europe and Asiatic nations are ready for war. When they are ready the Old World will have another war, probably of greater proportions than the World War.

In the meantime President Roosevelt has wisely moved toward an alliance of the New World republics. This alliance of course will be purely defensive, a mutual agreement to defend one another against European aggression. Of course it may mean a general strengthening of military and naval forces. For as the world is constituted today there was never more need of "speaking softly and carrying a big stick."

NEW RANGE INSTALLED IN SHAMROCK

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wyant of Shamrock Cafe of Nevada City have purchased the latest in a Kesky Deisel oil burning, French range from the Alpha Hardware store. A crew of workmen from the Alpha worked nearly all night Wednesday installing the big range. Mr. Wyant stated the stove is almost fire proof. The kitchen is to be sheathed in tin, besides a large tin hood is to be placed over the stove to carry away odors from cooking.

Fire Sweeps Business Block In Downieville

Two buildings were destroyed and two others were damaged yesterday in the historic business section of Downieville. The blaze was brought under control less than two hours after its start but for a while the rest of the closely built district was in grave danger.

The destroyed buildings were the telephone company office and the old Capitol Hotel.

The greatest damage was suffered by the Burton's Dry Goods Store. The building was saved, but water and smoke caused a heavy loss in stocks. The roof of the post office ignited several times but the building was saved.

The Capitol Hotel, a building dating back to pioneer times, in late years has been used as an annex to the historic St. Charles Hotel but in late years stood vacant.

Shortly after telephonic calls for aid were made, about 9 o'clock, just after the start of the fire, the telephone system, went out. Nearby towns, however responded at once.

Forty Civilian Consercation Corps workers were sent from Camptonville, twenty one miles away. The Grant and Heether Lumber Company near that place, suspended operation and sent upwards of twenty men to fight the fire. Every available ablebodied man in Goodyears Bar, six miles away, joined the volunteer fire fighters.

Likewise all fire-fighting apparatus from these places, principally forest service equipment, designed for fighting forest and brush fires, was brought here.

The fire started in the telephone office, presumably from a defective flue. All of the buildings destroyed or damaged were built of wood.

Downieville is one of the truly historic towns of northern California. It is the county seat of Sierra and dates back to the gold rush days.

Rolland Wright and Dr. Carl Jones in the latter's Volpee plans flew over the site of the conflagration yesterday morning. Wright reported that the fire was apparently under control at about 11 o'clock and that the St. Charles Hotel, which was at first reported to have been damaged had apparently escaped. It stands across the street from the postoffice.

One of the earliest fires to sweep Downieville occurred in 1860, when many families were left destitute and hungry. No time was lost in that early day in collecting funds for relief, according to early accounts of the disaster. Isaac Williamson, proprietor of the Union Hotel in this city collected $500 for relief and rode over to the stricken city on horseback, arriving there before the embers were cold.

CITY COUNCIL FACES PROBLEM OF WPA LABOR

At a special meeting of the city council last evening the serious problem which the city is facing in regards to labor conditions on the new city hall was discussed. The council has been advised by WPA authorities that, in all probability, as soon as the school buildings in this city are started the able skilled laborers now working on WPA time will be transferred to PWA work on the schools.

The only way the city council can retain a force of skilled workers on the city hall, it develops, is by paying out of the city funds the difference between WPA wages and PWA wages. This amounts to approximately $42.50 per month for carpenters. The council was of the opinion that this would have to be done, and that in the three months still necessary to complete the city hall a total of approximately $1500 more than had been anticipated would be needed to be spent.

The problem is complicated by the fact that according to the force of men employed on the city hall, the WPA provides materials. The number of man-hours of labor governs the amount of materials provided by WPA.

Charles Leiter, elected Tuesday to council membership sat in with the council. The board tried to locate Frank Daives also and ask him to attend the meeting, but were unable to do so. The vote in the city election will be canvassed on April 20.

Work on the streets has been suspended by WPA and the city council was recently notified that sidewalk work would presently cease. The city council hopes to complete the sidewalks on Sacramento street. But the city itself will have to complete the streets which were undertaken under WPA agreement and which have now been abandoned. These include Grove, Clay and Prospect streets.

Jane Barton To Open Conference On Home Making Next Wednes.

Jane Barton is proud of the fact that thousands of women have accepted her defination of a Homecraft Institute. It is a great deal more than a cooking school—it is a newer idea. Everyone who has ever heard her before has been disabused of the idea that Jane Barton is trying to teach her audience something. Instead she invites the audience into her home to see her work in it. Jane Barton believes that the suggestions which she gathers from home makers in the four corners of the land and gives out again to her audience help solve the problems that all home makers have in common.

Who ever heard of a cooking school that brought women information about proper foundations that their homes should have? How many home economists are there who are aware of the new trends in home decoration or who can reveal the interesting developments in cupboard and closet ideas that are making life simpler and easier for home makers?

With the larger and larger halls that are needed to take care of the crowds that come to the Homecraft Institutes Mrs. Barton has discovered that the best part of the program is at the end when all the women who attend are invited to come right into the Homecraft house, to come right up on the stage and discuss in person their problems and suggestions with her.

The success of the Homecraft Institute has made it recognized generally as a red letter event for all the housewives who have heard her before.

The Homecraft Institute which is scheduled in Nevada Theatre on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons, next week under the joint auspices of The Nevada City Nugget and the Pacific Rurel Press has been aptly christened "Adventures in Home Making" by Mrs. Barton. Admission is absolutely free and every woman in Nevada City and vicinity is invited to attend.

SPRING IS HERE AND THE NUDIST OF LAKE VERA CAVORTS AGAIN

Spring is here, and how well Deputy Sheriff Bill Woods knows it! For each spring moved by the vernal season and the spirit of Pan, a tall and wide gentleman, who resides somewhere in the vicinity of Lake Vera, discards his clothing and dances and prances through the woods.

Last spring Woods made two trips out to Lake Vera looking for this nudist. The days were warm and the chase was long, and, as it turned out, futile. Occasionally Woods would hear a loud: "Hee-hee" uttered derisively from the deep forest or the dense chapparel, but it was nothing to take hold of and arrest. The party in the birthday suit, unencumbered so to speak, could run circles around the deputy in his hunting togs.

This year with balmy weather the alarm came in again and Deputy Woods has made his first trip to the budding spring world around Lake Vera. He has listened to the same loud "Hee-Hee!" Woods declares he is going to take his thirty-thirty out with him on the next trip and fire in the general direction of the "Hee-Hees!" So many other people have seen this featherless bird that he is anxious to have just one look at him.

SNIPER SHOOTS WIFE, ATTEMPTS TO KILL SELF

Apparently under the influence of liquor, Joseph E. Harvey, sniper, formerly an electric welder of Los Angeles, shot his wife to death Wednesday night about 10 o'clock, then turned the revolver upon himself. The wife's remains are at the mortuary of Coroner Bob Jefford, and Harvey, unconscious is at the Jones Memorial hospital, with little hope that he will survive.

Sheriff Tobiassen and Conorer Jefford were notified of the tragedy by William Brackins, partner of Harvey and his wife in their gold panning operations. The shooting took place in the tent house occupied by the Harveys, about a mile up the Missouri canyon from its junction with Greenhorn creek, some distance below Red Dog.

The sheriff and his deputies arrived at the scene about 11 o'clock Wednesday night and did not get back to Nevada City until five o'clock yesterday morning. Both the living and dead had to be carried nearly a mile to the road. They found Mrs. Harvey had been shot twice, one bullet entering the right cheek, being deflected, came out at her chin, reentered her body and after penetrating her breast encircled her side coming out from her back. The other bullet entered her left shoulder and had apparently been fired while she was down either on the bed or the floor. After shooting his wife, Harvey fired a shot through his temple which came out at the top of his skull.

Harvey suffered from tuberculosis and, according to evidence gathered, had been drinking heavily. Three children, one of them married, a daughter and two sons reside at San Bernardino, where the family formerly lived. Harvey is 45 years of age. All the children are adults. The coroner is in communication with them regarding funeral arrangements. According to Brackins who is being detained as material witness, the Harveys earned about $2 per day at gold sniping.

ALPHA GRAVEL PROPERTY

Mr. Walter Plank, who filed on the Alpha gravel claims near Washington about two years ago, has had the road to the old workings cleared of snow and slides. It is understood mining interests have been looking over the ground in the last few days.

Mine Operation In County Near Peak

Mine operations in Nevada County during the past month have continued near the peak of the first of the year. The total number of men employed today, according to reports from the many operating properties is 2,522 and the payroll tops $353,000 per month.

There has been some shifting among mine executives in the past month. Newmont company has transferred E. R. Bennett, in charge of the Zeibright, to its Pennsylvania mine in Brown's Valley, and has sent John M. Becker to the Zeibright. Thomas Coan formerly of the Hussey has been made superintendent of the Rising Sun mine near Colfax, of the Grass Valley District.

Reports of increasing interest in Nevada County properties offered for lease and option are heard constantly, and some of these tentative agreements will undoubtedly culminate during the coming month. Reports from the various mines follow:

DEER CREEK UNION

Development work, with a crew of five, continues at the Deer Creek Union mine southeast of Nevada City. A heavy flow of water in new workings has been controlled by installation of a larger pump.

RISING SUN

Thomas Coan of Nevada City accepted the position of superintendent at the Rising Sun mine a mile and a half north of Colfax, and assumed his duties today. Work of repairing the collar of the shaft and beginning mine operation will start next week. The 750 foot shaft producer over $2,000,000 in early days. The property is fully equipped to mine and mill ore. New York interests are developing the property and have taken a lease and option.

ZEIBRIGHT MINE

In the last few days Mr. John N. Becker of Nevada City was employed as superintendent of the Zeibright mine at the eastern side of Bear Valley east of this city. He was in charge of the Alcana mine, Belgian Congo, for some time, and returned to Nevada City, his former home, a few months ago.

The Zeibright is milling 350 tons of ore per day. It is being taken from a foot vein which is low grade ore but on account of width can be mined profitably.

LAVA CAP MINE

Sinking operations were completed to the ninth level in the Central shaft a short time ago and crews are cross cutting to the Central vein. The 800 foot south drift in the Banner shaft continues in good ore. The drift is within 400 feet of contacting the Gracey-Glencoe veing on its eastern extension. The Lava Cap is employing 210 men. Mr. O. E. Schiffner is superintendent.

MOUNTAIN VIEW PROPERTY

Mr. J. F. White, who is operating the Mt. View property near Washington is expected to come up from Southern California Saturday. Spring work will start at the mine at once, the first work will be trucking the machinery, mill and other equipment, purchased recently from the Eagle Bird mine management, and which is at the Eagle Bird mine south of Washington. The road to the mill site at the Mt. View property is completed.

SNEATH AND CLAY PROPERTY

Re-conditioning the Sneath and Clay mine shaft on Gold Flat is progressing rapidly under direction of Mr. B. L. Eastman. It is reported a new electric line is to be placed in the shaft to operate the newly installed pump. Work is progressing on a new gas engine, and air compressor installation also. Re-timbering has been completed and men are cleaning out and straightening the shaft. It is reported drifting should start in a few days. Twelve men are employed.

Sunday Slaughter

(Contributed)

Sunday, a day for rest, a time of quiet contemplation—

And yet our highways on that day seem veritable battle-fields of slamming, crashing noise, of tearing, screaming steel, of blood and death and pitiful cries from the wounded.

A civilization insane, men have said, and have asked if there is anything left to do to reduce this week-end slaughter.

Ray Ingals, director of motor vehicles in California, thinks there is. He broached his plan in Sacramento the other day. He would keep trucks off the highway on Sunday.

He is now asking fleet owners and independent truck operators to keep their heavy equipment off Altamont pass in Alameda county and the Imperial valley route in Riverside county on Sunday afternoons and nights.

Commercial vehicle accidents on these roads are inordinately high. And on week ends, 42 per cent of all California accidents occur. If Ingals' plan has effect on these highways, it will be applied everywhere.

In the name of all that Sunday stands for, this plan—any plan—to reduce this week end slaughter should get whole-hearted support.

Taxes Coming And Going

When John R. Taxpayer of New Jersey crawls out of bed in the morning from between cotton sheets, taxed at more than four cents a pound, he goes into the bathroom and turns on the electric light, taxed at three per cent of his bill. He then brushes his teeth with a dentifrice taxed at five per cent and uses a soap with a five per cent tax on it.

When he eats his breakfast there is a 25 per cent tax on the cost of all food on his table. True, he doesn't realize it, but it's there just the same. His ham is taxed more than $2 a hundredweight. The ice water comes from a refrigerator which was taxed five per cent of what he paid for it. The toast carries 52 separate taxes. Other food, the silverware, linens, dishes, and other household appliances, bear the sign, invisible, of course, of hundreds of tax collectors.

His morning cigarette is taxed almost 100 per cent. The automobile he drives to the office carries a three per cent sales tax. His tires are taxed two and one-half cents a pound; his inner tubes are taxed at four cents a pound and when John R. Taxpayer buys gasoline he pays more in taxes on the gas than its wholesale price.

And if business is not good with John R. Taxpayer and he is not quite out of the red, he has a superior smile as he watches his friends stewing around with income tax returns.

"That's O. K. with me," says John R. Taxpayer. "I'm not earning enough to pay an income tax. I'm immune!"

That's in New Jersey. It is not so different in California.

SCHOOL CLOSING NEARS; SCOUTS YEARN FOR CAMP

Only six weeks more of school means many things to a scout, but chief among them is Scout Summer Camp at Pahatisi, a paradise of pleasure, recreation, health and adventure, where a scout may really "live."

A reminder of this has been received this week through the mail by each scout of Tahoe Area Council announcing that Camp opens on Sunday July 5th for a three week period for scouts.

This year the fact that some of the old staff are not able to return has attracted applications for these positions on the staff from some of the older scouts. Special effort through troop leaders in each district will be made to acquaint parents of what summer camp offers to the growing boy in an effort to get more scouts to camp.

Word has come that Pahatsi has attracted the attention of both the national and the regional officers for both have signified intention of sending a representative to inspect it during the summer session.

Mr. Gilbert Davis, principal of Angels Camp high school, spent Easter vacation with his mother and other relatives at Blue Tent north of Nevada City. Mr. Davis was principal of the Washington grammar school of this city at one time.

GOOD SERVICE COSTS NO MORE

A modern establishment—a trained, intelligent and courteous personnel — distinctive motor equipment and other evidences of progress and prosperity are NOT an indication that funeral service charges will be high. A successful concern can be built only by serving honestly and well, at prices that are fair and reasonable.

COLORADO SLIM GOES TO JAIL FOR LONG TERM

Regarded as a potentially dangerous, Charles Crapo, generally known in the rogues galleries as "Colorado Slim," was found guilty of disturbing the peace and threatening the life of Earl Fusilier, following a row over a woman in "My Place" on March 26. Crapo after threatening the life of Fuselier, visited the sheriff's office and told Sheriff Tobiassen that he had promised to kill Fusilier, that he was a man of his word, and then gave the sheriff his address, so that he would know where to find him.

The sheriff promptly placed him under arrest and Fusilier swore to a complaint. Crapo pleaded not guilty and on Tuesday was tried before a jury in Judge Mobley's court, which was held in the supervisors room in the court house. Crapo undertook his own defense and the jury found him guilty, after fifteen minutes deliberation. Crapo told the judge to give him double whatever sentence he had in mind. Judge Mobley stated he would sentence him to the maximum of whatever the law permitted, and accordingly sentenced him to 80 days in jail, and fined him $200. No fine forthcoming, Crapo must spend an additional 100 days in jail, or one day for each two dollars of the fine.

The chief of police of Reno called up the sheriff's office a few days ago and wanted to know the whereabouts of Charles Crapo. Sheriff Tobiassen replied he was in jail here. The chief remarked that there had been a murder in Reno and he wanted to know whether Crapo was in the vicinity or not. He seemed to think the alibi was satisfactory.

CITY OF FUTURE TO BE ON WHEELS

BERKELEY, April 16.—The city of the future will be largely a collection of mobile units, while the workmen of the future in the transportation industries will be clad in a spotless uniform and white collar, instead of oily gloves and dungarees, in the opinion of William B. Stout, former president of the American Society of Automotive Engineers, who was a recent visitor on the campus of the University of California. Stout came here to deliver the annual spring lecture of the College of Engineering.

Due to various causes, Stout said, a large portion of the population is continually moving about. Economic advancement is going to meet this situation by devising homes which can be wheeled about in sections—an enlargement of the automobile house trailer idea. This will mean that the political management of cities will give way to business management, for the taxpayer will move to the city with the most economical tax program and with the best managed business establishments.

The dim beginnings of this future American city may be seen in certain of the trailer camps in Florida, he said. In at least one of these he saw 150 house trailers last summer, with their inhabitants enjoying all of the comforts of home. It will be but a step more, he said, toward the establishment of community interests, and then the mobile city of the future will be on its way.

Regarding transportation progress otherwise, Stout said that the great advance in engineering science is creating a new type of transportation mechanic and engineer. Also with these advances will come a great increase in equipment and a consequent increase in employment. He says:

"Instead of passing laws to regulate and control the devices that science has brought about, we should try to discover laws which will put these devices to the best possible use in the interests of all."

BIG ATTENDANCE AT ELKS MONTHLY DINNER

Exalted Ruler Roland Wright last evening presided at the first Elks dinner since his election. There was a large and enthusiastic attendance, and the dinner was excellent. It was served promptly at 6:30 o'clock.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS BUILDING NEW CHURCH

The Nevada City Christian Science Society is soon to have a home of its own. The lot, formerly belonging to the Neagle family, has been purchased and is being cleared for the building. Roy Madison has been awarded the contract. The structure will be one story high and 20 by 50 feet in floor dimensions.

PLUM VALLEY GRAVEL PROPERTY

Cleaning out and repairing of the Plum Valley ditch has been completed and plans are to put it in use before long, sluicing gravel. This ditch has not been in use for about 40 years. A filing was made on 400 inches of water from one of the branches of the North Yuba river which comes in near the Kate Hardy mine. A crew of five worked last summer and winter in drifting operations on the Plum Valley property and a 25 foot channel was encountered which carries good values. The property lies southwest of Alleghany and was closed a short time ago. It is expected it will reopen before long. O. Gilbert of Nevada City is interested in the mine the others being Harold Casey, Carl Johnson, Joe Labounie, Mr. Johnson has been directing operations.

MINOR DRIVERS' PARENTS LIABLE FOR ALL DAMAGE

Responsibility for damage, injury or death caused by the act of a minor driver is clearly defined in California law, according to the legal department of the California State Automobile Association. That responsibility rests upon the one who signs the application for the minor's driving license, whether parent, guardian, or anyone else having custody and in some instances the employer of a minor. A statement by the motorists organization reviewing the subject emphasises the following:

Every time a minor drives he should realize that he is carrying an obligation to drive safely, not only for his personal welfare, but in the interests of whoever may have signed his application for a driver's license. Liability rests upon the one who has signed. It exists regardless of whether or not the minor is accompanied by parent or guardian at the time of the accident. It exists even if the minor is driving a car not owned by the parent or guardian, and even if he is driving without their knowledge.

Liability can not be avoided by permitting a minor to drive without a license. In that case the liability is not only the same, but both the minor and his parent or guardian are violating the law, the minor for driving without a license and those having custody for permitting him to do so.

Where a minor's employment requires him to drive it is provided that the employer may sign the license application and thereby assume the liability that would otherwise be assumed by parent or guardian. Such a license restricts the minor to driving only as required by his work. and the liability of the employer applies only to driving by the minor within the scope of the employment, unless the employer signs for an unrestricted license.

Besides civil responsibilities in the case of minor drivers, provision is made for more prompt revocation of their licenses than in the case of adults. The department of motor vehicles is required to revoke licenses of minors who drive under the influence of liquor or narcotic drugs; who drive recklessly who fail to stop and give aid and identify themselves in case of accident; or who exceed the speed limit twice within a period of six months.

RATTLESNAKE

Pete Giani, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Giani of Nevada City, while at work on his father's ranch near Rough and Ready Tuesday reached for a piece of lumber and drew back in haste when a large rattlesnake gave warning, it was coiled to strike. The snake barely missed his forearm as young Giani jumped for safety. He killed the big reptile and has the 13 rattles and a button fastened on his hat as a souvenir.

William Kee and brother, business men of Fresno, registered at the National Hotel this week. They have been in this district during the past year looking over mining properties.

TWO BIG RATTLERS KILLED NEAR MINE

Earl Chatfield, who spent last week end in Calaveras county at the Buffalo-What Cheer mine where his father is superintendent, was proudly displaying a pair of big rattlesnake's rattles Monday. One of the snakes was five feet long and the other between three and a half to four feet and their bodies were as big around as a man's wrist.

One of the miners walked down a path near the hoist room at the mine and noted what he thought was a big pick handle at the side of the path. The snake was stretched out with his head under a mine truck. When the man returned, closer scrutiny disclosed a rattler.

Earl and his father, Clayton Chatfield, and the miners turned the truck over and killed the snake. killed the snake.

Snakes travel in pairs and in about 15 minutes the men glanced out to see the larger snake in the same spot but coiled. Mr. Chatfield and Earl killed it also. These were the first snakes to be seen about the mine.

HI STUDENTS TO TAKE TB TESTS

The Nevada County Tuberculosis Association is sponsoring a health survey of the Nevada City, Truckee, and Hobart Mills school districts in co-operation with the local medical group, the local high school students, whose parents are willing, to undergo the examination next week. The survey will include a Mantoux tuberculosis test, and free X-rays of the heart and lungs will be taken when the skin tests indicate the need. A physical examination will be given by a chest consultant if the X-ray indicates need of further action.

Students have been given blanks to be taken home and filled out by their parents, and no test will be given without the consent of the parent or guardian. The service is free, financial backing having been arranged through the sale of Red Cross Christmas seals.

The test on Monday will be of a light nature and will reveal whether or not the students tested have contacted tuberculosis patients. A positive reaction on this first test does not necessarily indicate the presence of tuberculosis, but reveals necessity for further testing. On the third day, the students who, when tested, gave no further reaction will be tested further with a stronger solution. By Friday, sufficient examination will have been made so that none who are in danger of the dread disease and who have submitted to the tests will not have been told of the presence of the germ.

The cooperation of the parents in making this examination thorough is necessary to safeguard the health of the entire student body group. All parents are urged to give consent to the health authorities for the test.

The test which will be given is very simple. If any student shows a positive reaction to the test he will be given the X-ray and thus a complete diagnosis will be made.

Miss Ann Zchokke of San Francisco, representative of the Tuberculosis Association of California will have charge of the work. Dr. B. W Hummelt of Nevada City will give the tests.

To acquaint the parents of Nevada City of the need and importance of the test Miss Zchokke will explain the tuberculin test at the high school Parent Teachers Association meeting at the high school Monday evening at seven thirty. All parents and others who are interested are urgently requested to attend. Each parent should understand the vital importance of the test and make every effort to see that his child receives it. At this meeting Miss Zchokke will answer any questions.

TRAFFIC PATROL, PEACE OFFICERS TO COOPERATE

SACRAMENTO, April 16.—With only one officer available to patrol about 120 miles of rural road, members of California Highway Patrol put in a busy day watching the more than 2,280,000 registered motor vehicles of the state. But that isn't all of the task that makes up a patrol officer's day's work.

Aside from enforcement of all the state laws relative to drivers, registration and operation of motor vehicles, the highway patrol officer now is empowered "to pursue an offender or suspecte doffender" who violates any state law and to " make arrests for crimes committed in their presence or upon any highway."

In addition to arresting power recently given the patrol, officers of the state force are authorized to investigate accidents resulting in personal injuries or deaths and to gather evidence for the purpose of prosecution. The authority to investigate and aid in prosecution, according to E. Raymond Cato, chief of California highway patrol, is proving an important step in bringing reckless drivers before the courts for punishment.

With new authority in police matters given the patrol by the legislature, Cato has instructed the state force to co-operate in every way possible with municipal and county peace officers to the end that court action be simplified for all police interests.

CCC BOYS CUT FOREST FIRES TO LOW MINIMUM

(By C. J. EVERETT)

Early in 1933, shortly after President Roosevelt affixed his signature to the document which marked the inception of the Civilian Conservation Corps, providing a new outlet for a bewildered youth of this nation, over two hundred youths recruited from the many sections of California entered the scented forests of Ponderosa pine which blanket the California foothills leading to the snowy grandeur of the high Sierras, and here began to "dig in." as did the boys of '17, for a determined fight against depression and for the attainment of a firm foothold in the present economic structure.

These youths, ranging in age from 17 to 28, and comprising what was to be known as Company 914 CCC Camp Bradley, F-207, came under the technical supervision of the U. S. Forest Service, whose role became both that of a teacher and a leader. Here, under competent forest service supervision, the boys rapidly learned to wield axes, saws, pulaskis, jack-hammers, and bulldozers. Soon the forest was humming with busy activity as these determined youths built fire trails, truck trails, fire breaks, and telephone lines, which are adding millions yearly to the value of this, one of the nation's most valuable resources.

Here, where once the hardy miner of '49 panned the roaring American river as it rushed through its thousand foot canyon, today an equally bronzed son lays an air line so that a road might be hewed from the titanic grandeur of its rock walls, making accessible to all the hidden beauties of this picturesque backcountry.

The clicking of the gold coach wheels as they rolled down the old Placerville Pike has been replaced by the clank of the bull dozer, which manned by the CCC worker, widens and creates new safe highways to penetrate this forest wonderland. Telephone lines have been constructed, roads maintained, fire breaks and fire trails cleared out, and lookout towers and fireguard stations have been built by Camp Bradley CCC workers.

Moving to Grass Valley in 1934 and the following summer to Tahoe Ukiah for the fire season, the men of this company have done splendid work in minimizing the fire hazard through intelligent fire suppression work. Few serious fires have occurred in the last three years, for many small fires have been detected and extinguished with negligible damage. This very valuable work by the CCC men has insured a stand of fine timber for future generations and at the same time preserved the scenic ruggedness of California's hinterland, which is noted for its rapid streams, monumental grandeur, and the green and multicolored panorama of its virgin forests and many colored mountain flowers.

During their stay with the Civilian Conservation Corps, its members have acquired many useful and gainful trades, financial security, a new concept of responsibility, a feeling of loyalty, civic consciousness, and closeness to the government. Theirs is indeed a task well done.

Not only has the work performed been of immense value to our local communities, but to homes all over the nation, these once untrained youths have returned, sound, sturdy citizens of the nation.

PEDESTRIANS OFTEN KILLED JAY WALKING

most dangerous place for a pedestrian in the last year was the street between intersections, 360 persons having been killed in such places, according to department of motor vehicles.

Of the 1100 pedestrians killed in accidents involving motor vehicles in 1935, a total of 335 met death while crossing at intersections, 204 were walking along the highways, 44 were coming from behind parked cars, 40 were at work on their automobiles on the road, 44 were children playing in the streets, and 42 were getting on or off another vehicle.

Indicating that the safety zone is not the safest place for pedestrians, 10 persons were killed and 80 were injured while standing in these places.

MINING NEWS

IDAHO-MARYLAND MINES INC.

Shaft number two, or the circular shaft at the Idaho-Maryland mine, is being equipped with a skip and other equipment and will be completed in about 10 days. Work is progressing splendidly at the Forbestown properties taken over in the last two years. It is reported construction of a 400 ton daily capacity Marcie mill will be started soon to handle the gold bearing gravel. The Idaho-Maryland company has taken over several new properties in recent weeks, enlarging their holdings to several hundred acres. An extensive development program is being carried out on the group testing gravel deposits for gold content. Mr. Errol MacBoyle is general manager of all the properties.

MURCHIE MINE

The new shaft at the Murchie mine is down 2050 feet which is 450 feet below the level of the old workings. The new shaft lacks several hundred feet of holing through to the surface near the mill. It is understood this will not be completed for a time as ore is being mined at different levels in the mine. Mr. George Kervin is superintendent.

PHOENIX GROUND

Work on a small scale is being carried on at the Phoenix mine below Grass Valley. A new shaft sunk in recent months gives promise of making another producer for the camp.

ALTA MONTE PROPERTY

The Alta Monte gravel mine at Alta, with Superintendent W. M. Wilkinson in charge, will start operations this month. The property is fully equipped to mine. A 225 foot shaft is on the old Nary-Red gravel channel which was extensively mined in the 90's by the Alta Mining Company.

BULLION MINE

Mining continues within their restricted area in the Bullion mine. A suit between the North Star-Empire and Bullion property has not been settled. The new Alaska shaft on property under option to the Bullion is down 500 feet and a station is being cut. A dry house and several other buildings are to be built at the new Alaska shaft. The property is two miles south of Grass Valley.

PENNSYLVANIA MINE

The Pennsylvania mine in Browns Valley which had the shaft flooded during a recent storm, has been unwatered and development work shows a strong vein of quite satisfactory ore. Mr. E. R. Bennett, former superintendent of the Zeibright, was transferred to the property about two weeks ago.

MARKS MINE

Within the last two months a crew of five has drifted 200 feet on the ledge on the Marks property northwest of Nevada City. They are prospecting the ledge as development progresses. Mr. James Allen is in charge of operations.

NEW HOME BUILDING

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Christensen are building a home on a lot they purchased in the old Hurley tract northeast of Nevada City. It is to be a five room cottage, located not far from Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hiscox.

Mr. Theodore Nelson, who lives in the same district, is remodeling his home by adding a sleeping porch and sun porches, making the house more convenient and attractive.

VALLEY GOLD MINES INC.

The Valley Gold Mines Inc., in the Willow Valley district have four men employed at the Bellefontain and LeCompton properties. Repairs are being made at the LeCompton and the whole group are practically ready for active work. Mr. Fred Cole of Southern California came up Wednesday and is spending his time at the property. Mr. J. M. Hoff is directing operations.

SPANISH MINE

A diamond drill has been taken to the Spanish mine south of Washington to test ore bodies at the lower tunnel. Production of ore continues at the upper and lower camps. The flotation and cyanide processes are used in recovering gold, the concentrates are shipped to the bay district.

TWIN CITIES MAY FORM SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA SOON

An effort to organize a symphony orchestra in the Twin Cities is being made by Mr. Caldwell, violin instructor in Grass Valley, and L. E. Sweeney, head of the music department of the Nevada City high school. The first meeting of interested citizens was held in Grass Valley Tuesday evening, and a good attendance assured continued interest in such an organization.

The next meeting will be held next Tuesday evening in the music room in the rear of the Methodist church in Grass Valley. All players of musical instruments who wish to become a part of this symphony orchestra are invited to attend this meeting and to bring their instruments with them. When organization is complete, meetings will be alternately held in Grass Valley and Nevada City, the local meeting place to be the high school building.

The meeting will open at 7:15 and plans for definite organization will be made during the course of the evening.

VITAL SUBJECT TO BE P. T. A. TOPIC

All parents and others interested are urgently requested to attend the meeting of the High School Parent-Teacher Association at the high school, Monday evening at seven-thirty.

Miss Ann Zchokke of San Francisco, representative of the Tuberculosis Association will explain the tuberculin test and answer any questions. Each parent should understand the vital importance of the test, and make every effort to see that his child receives it.

Mr. Kjorlie will discuss the questions: "Who Shall Go to College?" "To What College?" and "Comporative Costs."

The chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Libbly, will sing.

JUDGE McMAHON OF DOWNIEVILLE IS SUMMONED

J. M. McMahon, 66, superior judge of Sierra County died early Wednesday at his home in Downieville.

He was appointed to office by Governor Frank F. Merriam on January 11, 1935, suceeding the late Henry B. Neville.

He was a native of Sierra County, the first in a long line of superior court judges to be so elevated. He was born at the McMahon ranch, twelve miles north of Downieville of pioneer parents. He was educated in the little schools of mining camps, now deserted. He went into mining but also studied law. In 1919 he began the practice of law in San Joaquin county and there served also as postmaster in Lodi. At one time or another he had practiced in Tuolumne, Nevada and Sierra Counties.

He returned to Sierra County in 1930 when he was appointed district attorney by the board of supervisors to succeed Neville, who had been elevated to the superior judgeship.

The death of Judge McMahon makes the fourth vacancy in the office of superior judge in nine years.

He leaves a wife, two children and six grandchildren. He was a veteran of the Spanish-American war and saw service in the Philippine Islands. He was a member of the Lodi Lodge of the Knights of Pythias and of the Downieville Parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon at 2 o'clock in the court house at Downieville. The Native Sons will be in charge of the obsequies. The Rev. H. H. Buckner will preach the funeral sermon. Funeral direction is in care of Holmes Funeral Home of this city.

LACK OF PROPER SCHOOLING HELPS MAKE CRIMINALS

An advocate of a subject will often quote well known authorities to strengthen his position. Some weeks ago in Miami, Fla., Col. A. L. Bowes, chairman of a county association of school trustees, quoted Warden Lewis E. Lawes, of Sing Sing Prison, as having stated that "schools are the cause of crime in this country."

Warden Lawes' administration of one of the country's most famous penitentiaries has been the subject of many newspaper and magazine articles, as well as motion pictures and radio programs. It was hardly supposed that he would make a statement fixing upon our public schools the responsibility for the wide-spread crime wave that the country is experiencing today.

An inquiry was accordingly addressed to Mr. Lawes, requesting him either to affirm or deny the statement attributed to him. He immediately replied, stating that he had been erroneously quoted by Colonel Bowes and added:

"It has always been my conviction that it is the lack of proper schooling and training that is one of the great causes for juvenile delinqnency and subsequent criminal careers in this country."

This is the position of educators and other students of social problems. They point out that the way to solve the crime problem is through proper education i. e., by instilling in the minds of pupils a sense of honesty, morality, truth, and justice. Many students of our social problems concede the value of employment and intelligent use of leisure as a deterrent of crime.

The public schools are rendering a great service to the youth of the country, but these educational institutions cannot be expected to bear the entire burden. Parents must cooperate and do their part.

While the public schools are doing all within their present power to turn out well-equipped, useful citizens of the Nation, they cannot be held responsible for the student's conduct or associations outside of school hours. This is where the home influence and parent education play important parts, and at a critical time in the lives of America's boys and girls.

Earl Chatfield motored to San Andreas Saturday and returned with his mother and two brothers, Mrs. Clayton Chatfield, Stanley and Clayton, Jr., Sunday. They spent last week visiting Mrs. Chatfield's husband.

Harry Davey, student at University of California, Berkeley, returned to school Sunday after spending the Easter holiday in Nevada City with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davey.

SCHOOLS WEEK TO OPEN APR. 27

The seventh annual Public Schools Week will begin April 27. Because of the wide spread interest in the schools, probably more intense now than for many years past, due to the careful scrutiny of all tax programs, the Nevada City Nugget is publishing a series of articles in the form of questions and answers which has been prepared for it by Dr. Elmer Staffelbach, research director of the California Teachers Association, and Alfred E. Lentz, legal advisor of the State Department of Education. The first article follows:

1. What are public schools?

Public schools are supported by public taxation, maintained under public control, and offer free education to every child.

2. What is the purpose of public schools?

To train all children so that they will be able to help throughout life in the American lpan of living together, sharing responsibilities, enjoying the protection of government, and defending the equality of opportunity which is democracy.

3. Does our school system belong to the district or city, to the county, or to the state?

Our school system belongs to the state. It is a state system, created by constitutional provisions g,overned uniformly by state laws, and supported from public funds levied under state laws.

Yes. Every state in the Union pays at least part of the cost of its schools.

5. Why does the state pay part of the costs of schools?

Because education of all the people benefits the whole state and because without "state aid" to equalize the abilities of the richer and poorer sections, many districts would be unable to provide schools—and thousands of children would be denied their rights as American citizens.

6. Why are school facilities not equal in various districts, without state aid?

In some districts the assessed valuation per pupil in school is more than a hundred times as great as in other districts. Without state aid it would be financially impossible for many poorer districts to provide schools.

7. What part of the cost does the state pay?

Of all public school funds raised, the state contributed as follows:

1889-1890	52.4%
1899-1900	53.0%
1909-1910	27.1%
1914-1915	19.7%
1919-1920	14.0%
1924-1925	19.3%
1930-1931	14.9%
1933-1934	53.1%

8. Why has the state's share of public school support been recently increased?

In 1933 the people of California voted a constitutional amendment requiring the state to provide the support previousiy provided by the counties. The purpose of this amendment was to relieve real and personal property taxpayers in the counties. By this amendment annual school support to the extent of about $38,000,000 was shifted from the counties to the state. The constitution now requires the state to furnish not less han $60 per child in average daily attendance in the elementary schools, and not less than $90 per child in average daily attendance in the high schools.

9. Is it good policy to have these "fixed charges" for public education in the state constitution?

Yes. Such "fixed harges" are really constitutional guarantees to the boys and girls of California that public schools shall be kept open for them to attend.

BEER REVENUE IS USED TO AID PUBLIC SCHOOLS

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Reports from administrative officers of the various states and statistics compiled by the Office of Education, U. S. Department of the Interior show that in addition to one-quarter billion dollars revenue obtained by the federal government in 1935 from the manufacture and sale of beer, the state governments collected approximately $55,000,000 in excise and special taxes on beer. Approximately $55,000,000 from such taxes also was obtained by local governments. About 50 per cent of the revenue from beer collected by state and local governments was used for educational, charitable and public welfare purposes.

Fourteen states, during 1935, were required by laws to allocate beer revenue directly to the support of their schools. This aid for t public schools of those states, d rived directly from beer durin 1935, totaled approximately $11 000,000, or about 20 per cent of th total revenue derived from beer b all state governments. In thirty oth states, where beer revenue went in general funds, appropriations we made from these general funds f the maintenance and development public school systems.

California returns 50 per cent its beer revenue to the localities which it is collected. The other 5 per cent goes into the general fun The state's 2c a gallon tax on ma beverages brought in $1,267,294.6 in 1935. Beer licenses, which we not segregated, also were a substa tial part of the state's revenue.

Mrs. A. Marko and son, Joe, San Francisco spent last week Nevada City visiting Mrs. Marko sister, Mrs. Evalyn Skeahan. Upo their return they were accompanie by Mrs. Sheahan who is spendin this week in the bay district visi ing.

LAST RITES HELD

Death came to Ronald Davies, almost five years old, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davies. Ronald throughout his life had been of the frailest health and death to him was perhaps a surcease from pain, but his going leaves a void in the hearts of those to whom he was near and dear. Surviving him are brothers and sisters: Eugene, Robert, Jr., Gerald Veronica, Shirley, Richard and Mary Davies, and Mrs. Catherine McMichaels. MEMORIAL TO EDISON WILL BE SCHOLARSHIPS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 16.—James B. Black, president of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, today accepted chairmanship of the western regional committee which will conduct the Thomas Alva Edison Foundation Commemorative Campaign.

Invitation to assume the task of organizing the western states in support of the Edison memorial movement came to Mr. Black from Owen D. Young, chairman of the national committee. As western chairman Mr. Black will form a regional committee to represent states of California, Nevada, Idaho, Utah, Washington and Oregon. Members of the committee will be outstanding leaders in industry, commerce and in education.

The Thomas Alva Edison Foundation was incorporated in 1935 in response to a spontaneous demand since the inventor's death in 1931, for national commemoration of the life and works of America's greatest inventive genius.

Following organization of the Foundation a national committee was formed to raise funds by popular subscription throughout the country for accomplishment of its purpose. First of these will be to establish a living memorial, in the form of scholarships, to perpetuate Thomas A. Edison's interest in the advancement of American youth in science, engineering and invention.

The Foundation will set up a permanent fund for the support of 100 Edison Scholarships to be awarded to candidates ambitious to follow in Edison's footsteps in creative study and research. Each candidate awarded a scholarship will be privileged to choose the institution of learning he wishes to attend. In keeping with the Edison principle, selection of students will be based upon criteria of fitness for study and research rather than solely upon previous academic training.

Participating in the fund raising campaign will be educational and civic organizations, the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and other scientific and technical bodies, and the great industries which owe their origin to Edison's inventions.

STREAMS CLOSED FOR TWO YEARS OPENED MAY 1

Game Warden Earl Hiscox stated last Wednesday that Milton Dam, Middle Yuba river, Jackson Meadow, and all tributaries will be open to fishing this season for the first time in two years.

This will be good news to all Isaac Waltons as this is a fisherman's paradise. This dam, river, and many cold mountain streams are the native waters for the eastern brook trout.

Many local fishermen are making plans to enjoy a fishing trip on the opening day, Friday, May first. The opening date falls on a Friday and many fishermen plan a week end on the streams. All streams are high this year on account of an abundant rainfall, but it is expected many limits will be brought in on the first day.

TORNADO DEAD TOTAL 520; RED CROSS IS BUSY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 16.—Five hundred twenty persons dead, 2,000 injured and more than 5,000 homes destroyed or damaged. That is the latest Red Cross survey of the tornado ripped states in the south, A. L. Schafer, Red Cross manager in the Pacific Area is advised by Admiral Cary T. Grayson, national chairman at Washington, D. C.

The greatest loss of life was at Gainesville, Georgia, with 225 dead and at Tupelo, Mississippi, with 203.

Red Cross workers in the tornado zones report that never before had they witnessed devastation so complete and appalling. Sections of Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee are affected.

Rising floods along the Ohio river and its tributaries have sent more refugees into Red Cross shelters.

Flood relief operations in New England, New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana are being carried on in 114 counties. More than 118,135 families exceeding 500,000 persons, are on the Red Cross lists for assistance.

Admiral Grayson announces from Washington that the entire nation is making generous response to his appeal, and that of President Roosevelt for relief funds for the stricken families in the storm swept states.

A gift of $30,000 from the United States Steel Corporation and its subsidiaries has sent the total thus far to $5,589,000. Contributions from the Pacific Area amount to $358,621. The quota for the area is $412,000.

Mr. L. R. Robins, mining man, accompanied by an engineer stopped over in Nevada City the latter part of the week while enroute from Reno, Nevada to Sulphur Creek, Colusa county, where they looked over mining property.

TEACHERS ASSN. OPPOSES REPEAL OF SALES TAX

SAN FRANCISCO, April 16.—Two hundred delegates to the State Council of the California Teachers Association, representing a membership of 35,000 teachers, in annual session here unanimously adopted resolution of confidence in State Superintendent of Public Instruction Vierling Kersey and deplored what the resolution declared to be "an attack on public education in California."

The resolution concluded: "We pledge our unqualified confidence in Mr. Kersey as an individual and pledge our unanimous support to him in his able leadership of public education in California."

Resolutions also were adopted opposing the repeal of the sales tax and opposing the repeal of the state income tax.

Another resolution of public importance adopted opposed the measure on the November ballot known as the "Instructors' Tenure Initiative Amendment."

It was declared that the passage of the amendment, in form of an amendment to the state constitution would put into the basic law an amendment "poorly drawn in that it contains many obvious defects and contradictions and provides for methods of operation which are cumbersome, if not wholly impractical and impossible of fulfillment."

John A. Sexson, superintendent of schools of Pasadena, was re-elected president of the association, and John F. Brady of San Francisco was re-elected vice president.

Directors for the coming year were elected as follows: Mrs. Josephone Smith, Los Angeles; Mrs. Pauline Merchant, Garden Grove; Clarence W. Edwards, Fresno; Robert L. Bird, San Luis Obispo; Ed. I. Cook, Sacramento; O. A. Cooperrider, Arcata and Walter T. Helms, of Richmond, with the president and secretary also members of the board.

Roy W. Cloud, State Executive Seretary, was again unanimously elected State Treasurer of the Association.

Ernest Innes of Sierra City, owner of the Keystone mine at that place was a business visitor in Nevada City Wednesday Mr. Innes is also owner of the Sierra Buttes Inn which he has leased. The new management is remodeling and renovating the Inn in time to cater to fishermen and tourists that enjoy a visit to this beautiful spot.
